

ER 193 Australia, birdwatching between Sydney and Cairns

I made this birdwatching holiday to Australia with my wife Inka. We travelled during 34 days with a hired car (small Suzuki) from Sydney to Cairns and back. Cape Tribulation in the Daintree NP was our northernmost point. First we followed the Pacific Highway along Australia's east coast. We drove back to Sydney inland, following the Great Inland Way. In total a distance of 7721 km was covered by hired car. The night was passed in 25 different places, two thirds of them campsites. Camping and fuel turned out to be much cheaper in Australia than in Europe.

In the South it was dry for the time of year. In Queensland we had some light rain. One day we travelled by boat from Cairns to the Great Barrier Reef and visited Michaelmas Cay, a small sandy island with seabird colonies.

Short description of the visited areas :

Sydney area

- Nepean River valley : we explored this valley from our campsite in Wallacia and visited the easternmost parts of the Blue Mountains NP en Yarramundi Reserve.
- Lane Cove NP : small national park in the northern outskirts of Sydney. The area consists of a wooded valley and small river.
- Narrabeen area : small coastal town north of Sydney. We stayed one night at the Big4-campsite north of town. From there the Warriewood Wetlands were visited by foot in the early morning. After breakfast the Dee Why Lagoon just south of Narrabeen was paid a short visit.

Pacific Highway

- Harrington area : coastal village just east of Taree, near the Pacific Highway. The old village is surrounded by luxurious new suburbs. Here we stayed one night at a campsite. The coastline near the village was explored on foot, especially along the wide Manning river. Later the rocky cape of Crowdy head was visited, northeast of Harrington. Finally we explored the first part of the rainforest trail.
- Yamba area : we arrived at dusk at the B4 campsite northwest of town at the shore of the Clarence river. This is an agricultural area with many sugarcane fields. After exploring the surroundings of the campsite, Yamba was visited, especially the Pier at Clarence head and Hickey Island, a small nature reserve.
- Lamington NP : after leaving the Pacific highway near Gold Coast we headed up the mountain to Lamington NP. This forested area was our first stop in Queensland. We glamped 2 nights at the headquarters of Binna Burra, at 800 m. From there several forest trails were explored.
- Wild Horse Mountain : we had a brief stop at the petrol station of Wild Horse Mountain, a village 25 km north of Caboolture.
- Gympie : In this small inland town Lake Alford Park was visited in the afternoon. The ponds and small islands in the park hold many waterbirds.
- Rainbow Beach : we stayed 2 nights at the B4 campsite of Rainbow beach, 2 kms west of town. The forested campsite lays at a coastal bay with mangroves. The flowering Eucalyptes trees attracted many birds during our stay. Inskipp Point north of the village was visited in the morning. In the afternoon a small part of the Coloola Great Walk south of the village was explored, up to the Carlo Sandblow.
- Maryborough : on our way north a brief stop was made in Maryborough. The townpark holds many waterbirds and a big flock of Little Corella's was present.
- Gladstone area : in the surroundings of Gladstone some birds were seen from the Pacific Highway.
- Yeppoon area : just south of Yeppoon we spent a night in a cabin in the village of Mulambin. Next morning the surrounding area was explored, especially Causeway Lake, the Capricorn Coast NP and the small port of Rosslyn.
- Marlborough : on our way further north a brief stop was made near Marlborough. We explored the area around a petrol station and saw our first Brolga's.
- St Lawrence Creek : thanks to a road sign we visited this area. Near the actual creek several wetlands are present. One of the best places has even a birdhide. Many waterbirds can be seen here.
- Mackay : we stayed one night in this quite big coastal town. After a late arrival, next morning some agricultural and swampy land bordering industrial areas was explored.
- Eungulla NP area : on a cloudy day we headed inland to the Eungulla NP. Along the road higher up the mountain some trails were explored under wet conditions. Highlight was the observation of two mating Platypus from a bridge at noon.
- Bowen : we spent one night at a campsite in this coastal village. After a late arrival next morning Queensbeach and Kingsbeach were visited, as well as the townpark. Here are some bird colonies on an island in a small lake.
- Giru area : we had a brief lunch stop along the road about 40 kms south of Townsville, in the area of Giru. Some birds were seen in the trees at the entrance to a private farm.
- Townsville area : from our car some birds were seen along the highway, especially a big flock of Black Kites near a rubbish dump.
- Paluma NP : beautiful national park at 1000 m above sea level. We stayed two nights in Paluma village, a small settlement in the middle of the rainforest. The trails around the village were explored as well as the area around an artificial lake further inland.
- Tyto Wetlands : after leaving Paluma NP this small reserve north of Ingham was visited. There is a nice trail around a lake. We were there around noon. Despite of the unfavourable time of the day we were lucky enough to see many interesting birds.
- Cardwell : small coastal village where we had a brief afternoon stop.
- Mission Beach : small quite touristic and laid out coastal settlement. We checked in for a campsite just before dusk. Next morning I searched the area for the famous Southern Cassowary. After two hours I discovered a juvenile on a trail ramp moving into the mangroves. On a small trail in the forest I was able to sea even the father, a very memorable moment.

- Mourilyan area : Further north we visited Mourilyn harbour and the touristic village Etty Bay.

Cairns area

- Cairns area : We spent three nights at a campsite near the suburb Lake Placid along the shore of the big Barron river, a few kms northwest of Cairns. The first full day we visited several areas near Cairns, like the famous Esplanade, where many waders can be seen at low tide, Cattana wetlands, Redden Island at the mouth of the Barron river, the Botanical gardens, the cemetery and the boardwalks into the mangroves behind the airport. The second day was almost completely spent on a boat trip to the Michaelmas Cay.
- Michaelmas Cay : small cay about 40 kms northeast of Cairns, one of the about 140 on the Great Barrier Reef. During our visit many seabirds were present. Six birdspecies were seen on the small island.
- Kuranda area : after leaving Lake Placid we headed up the mountain and visited the area around Kuranda, especially the Wrights Lookout and the Barren Falls. Nice trails and viewpoints are present here.
- Port Douglas : coastal town to which we paid a brief visit of one hour in the afternoon.
- Daintree NP area : big coastal NP consisting of rainforest along the Daintree river. We camped one night in Daintree village and one night in Cape Tribulation, our northernmost point. Unfortunately the area still holds some cattle farms, especially around Daintree village. One morning we spent with a local guide on a boat on the river. Several boardwalks were visited in this beautiful NP, like Marddja Boardwalk, the area around the visitors centre and around Cape Tribulation. A short visit was paid to Cow Bay. On the way back some birds were seen in the area of Mossman.
- Mount Molloy area : small place where we stayed one night in the nice village hotel. Some birds were seen near Julatten, in Mount Molly, in the dried out Abattoir Swamp, during a morning visit along the East Mary Road. Lake Mitchell along the road south was visited twice. Next day a short visit was paid to an area along the Biboorha Pickford road.
- Atherton Tablelands : higher area situated around Atherton. On our way to Atherton we made a hike on the rocks of Granite Gorge and some birds were seen in Walhamin lake. Once the actual tablelands were completely covered by rainforest. Nowadays the area is mostly converted to agricultural land. We stayed one night at the B4 campsite south of Atherton, a convenient place to visit the nearby Hasties Swamp. Here is a birdhide and many waterbirds can be seen. Hasties Swamp was visited twice. Other places we spent some time birdwatching in this region are Lake Eacham, Wongabel forest, Bromfield swamp, Lake Tinaarlo, Lake Barrine, the Curtain Figtree and finally Mount Hypipamee.

Great Inland Way

- Undara NP : this was the first place along our roadtrip down south to Sydney along the Great Inland Way. Undara is a volcanic park and was quite dry during our visit. The waterlevel in the lake near the visitors centre was low and during our visit it attracted many birds. The adjacent meadows are good for kangaroos and emus. We camped one night in the NP and did the Kalkari Crater roundwalk (2,5 km). Kookaburras come to eat here from the dishes in the restaurant.
- Greenvale area : on our way south some birds were observed in the small village of Greenvale and surroundings.
- Charters Towers area : we spent the night in this cattle town at a B4 campsite. During dinner thousands of fruitbats flew overhead. Some birds were seen around the campsite. A small lake near the railway station was good for ducks.
- Beylango river : we had a brief stop of half an hour along this river at a petrol station.
- Clermont area : a short afternoon visit was paid to this small town along the Great Inland Way. Some birds were seen along the road around this town, in the city park with a long pool and around the Sewage treatment facility.
- Lake Maraboon : southwest of Emerald we camped one night near lake Maraboon. After a late arrival the area was explored next morning. There is a nice viewpoint overlooking the artificial lake. Here a night-heron roost is present in a big figtree. Lake Maraboon is the biggest lake in Queensland.
- Springsure - Mount Zamin : 80kms south of Emerald a short stop was made in Springsure, especially in the area of Mount Zamin, where some interesting birds were seen.
- Nuga Nuga NP area : further south some birds were observed along the road in the area of the Nuga Nuga NP.
- Roma area : we spent one night in a motel in Roma. I birded the Roma bush gardens and several small town parks. Heading south many birds were seen in farmland southeast of town.
- Surat area : 70 kms southeast of Roma we had a one hour birding stop along the Ballone river at Surat.
- St George area : in the afternoon two hours were spent birding in the area of St George, along the Ballone river and near Dirranbandi.
- Lightning Ridge area : after crossing the border between Queensland and New South Wales we spent one night in this mining town at the B4 campsite. Several interesting birds were seen in and around the campsite next morning.
- Walgett area : on our way south, still along the Great Inland Way, we had a coffee stop of one hour in Walgett. Additionally some birds were seen along the road north and south of town.
- Coonamble area : we had a short lunch stop in Coonamble. Some birds were seen in the bushes and parks along the Castlereigh river.
- Dubbo area : we spent one night in the B4 campsite in this bigger town. The surroundings and the extensive parks along the neighbouring Macquari river were explored.
- Spring Ridge area : after leaving Dubbo we birded the Springridge area, 70 kms east of town. Here a quiet road traverses the Yarrobil NP. The only Wombat of the trip was found along this road, unfortunately a roadkill.
- Windamere dam : a short afternoon visit was paid to the artificial lake and dam.
- Capertee Valley : very beautiful valley east of the small village of Capertee. 40 kms east of Capertee we spent the night at the free campsite of Glenn Davis. It was a pretty cold night. Next morning the area was explored on foot during misty and cloudy conditions.

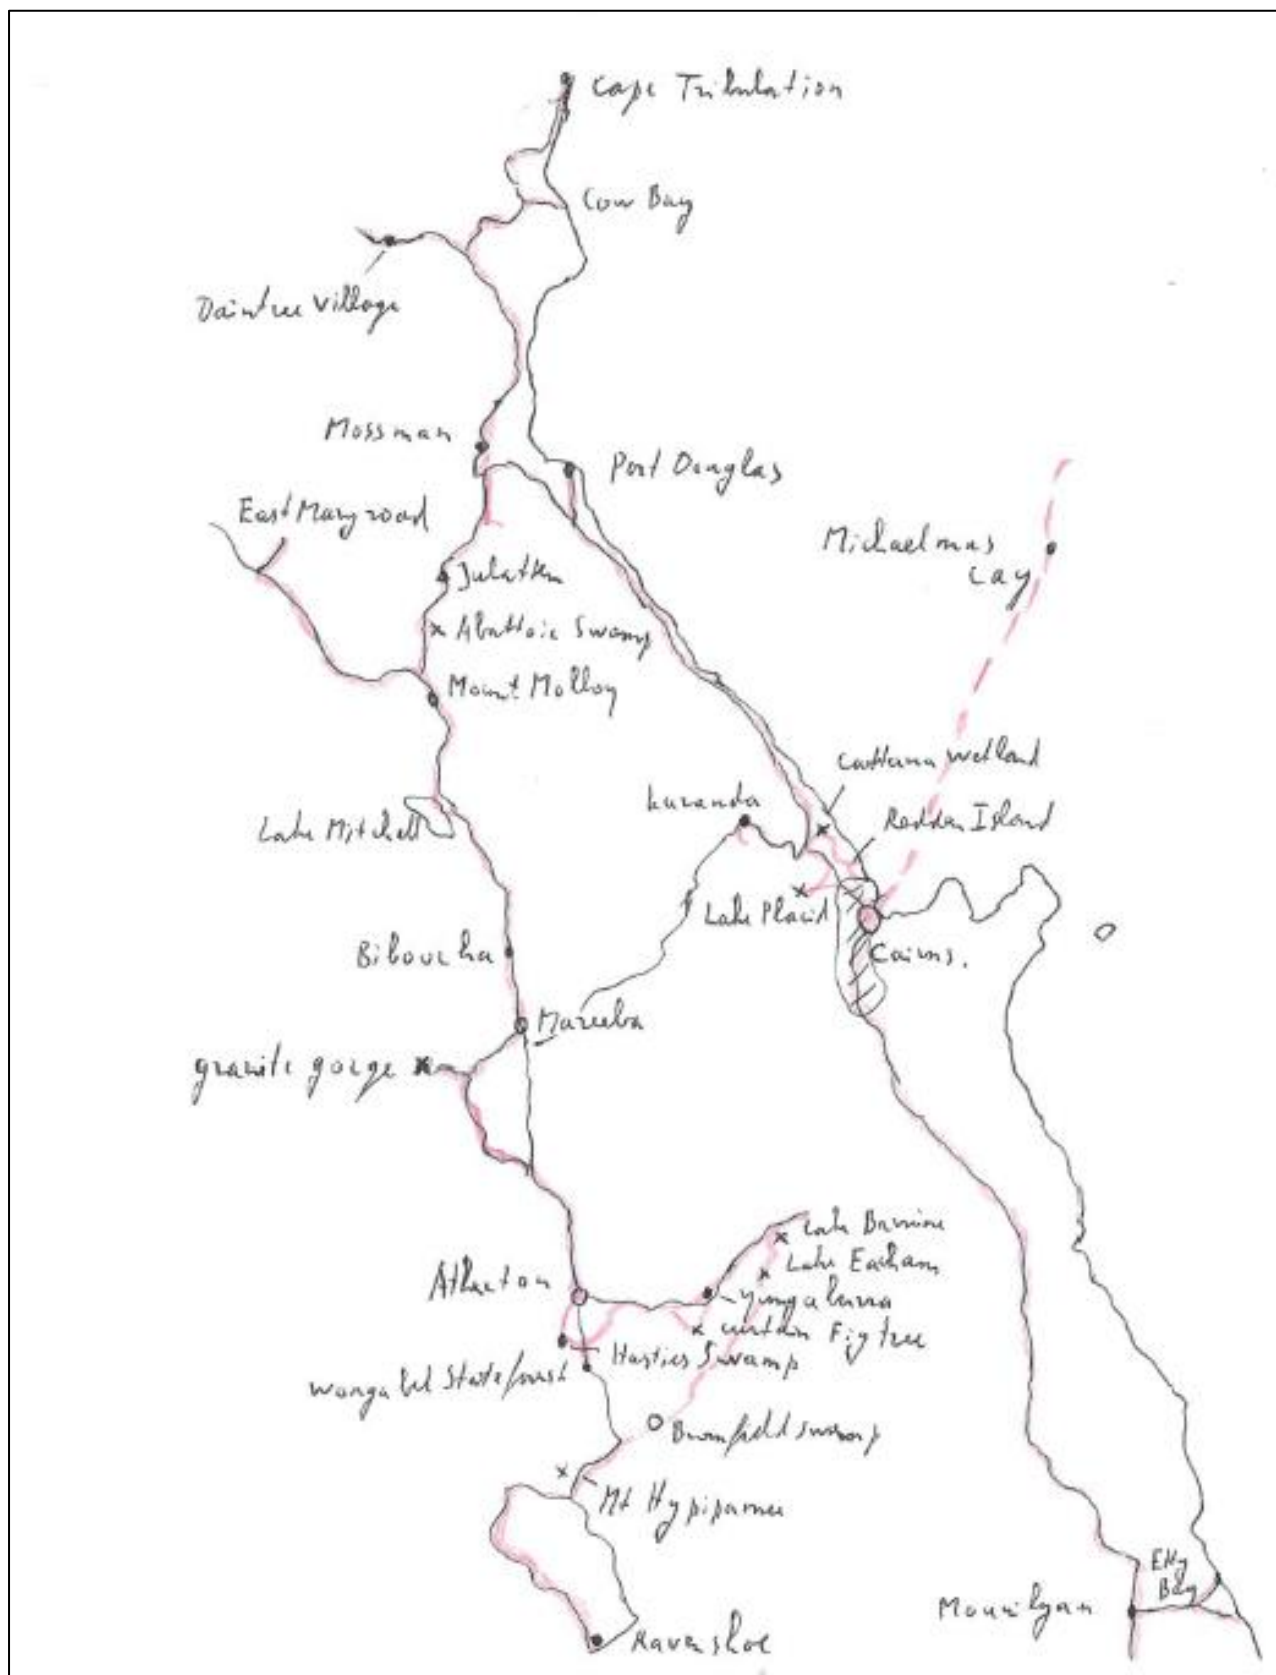

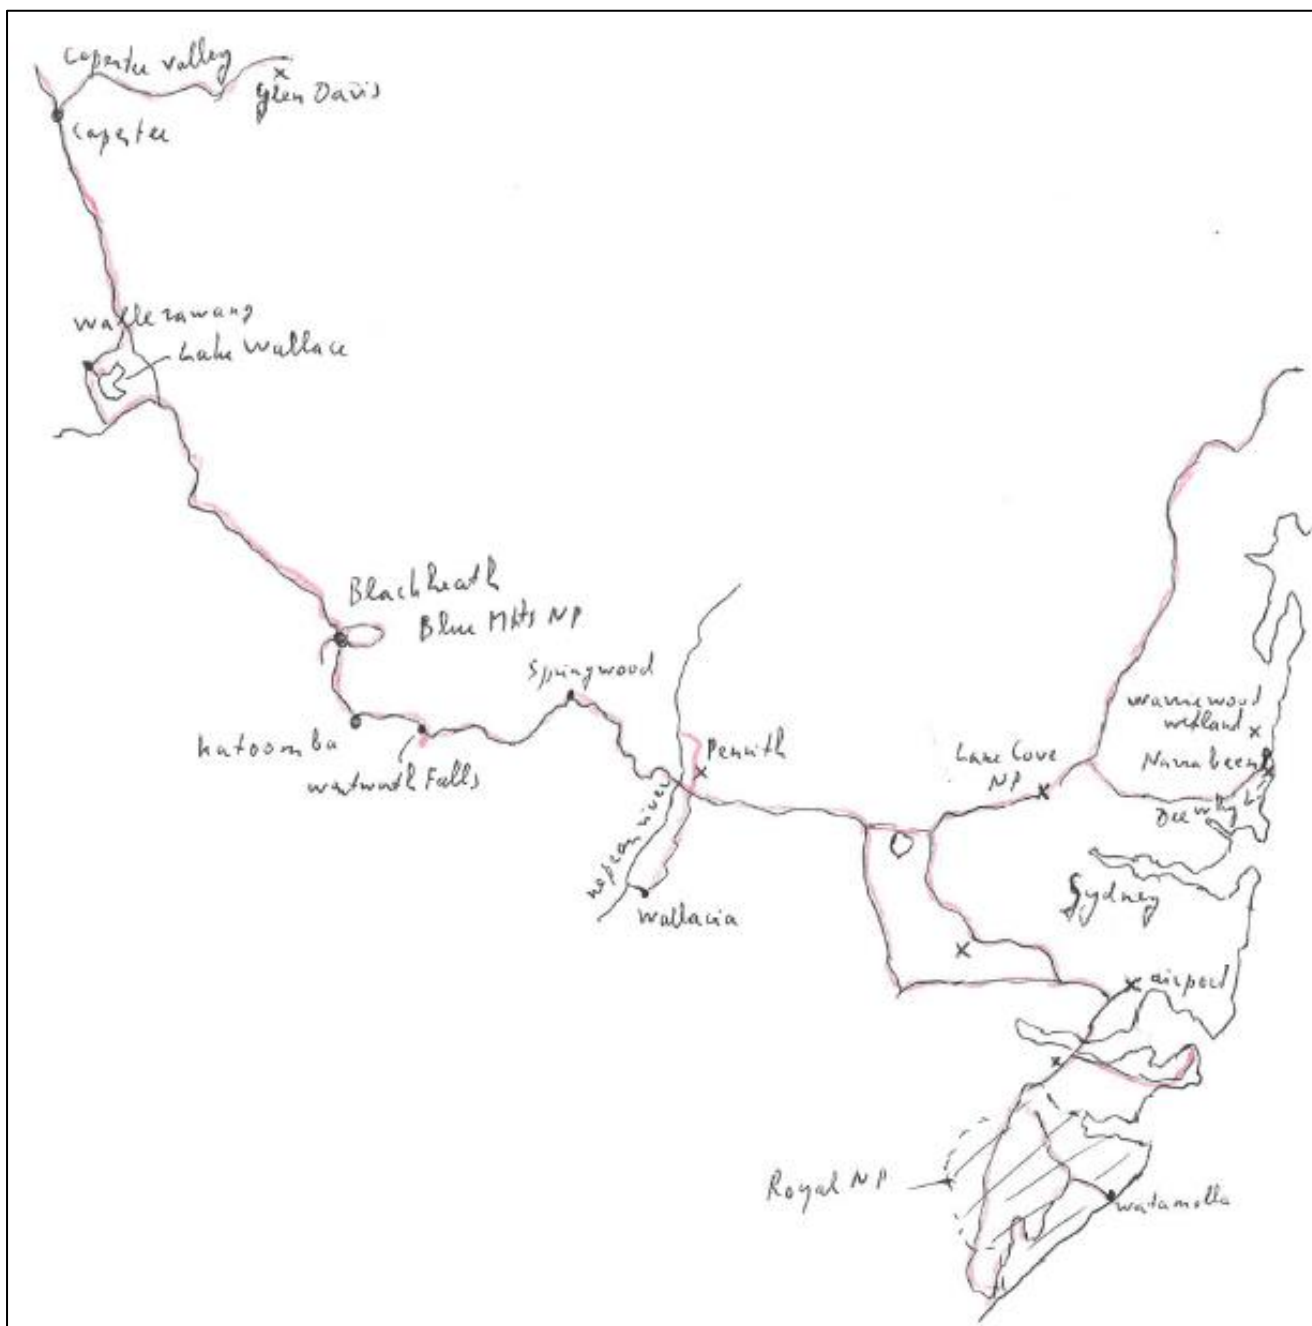

Common Emu in Lightning Ridge.

Southern Cassowary on boardwalk in Daintree NP.

- Wallarawang : after leaving Capertee valley 1,5 hours were spent at lake Wallace, just south of Wallarawang. The area holds many waterbirds, including some interesting ducks like Blue-billed Duck and Musk Duck.

Sydney area

- Blackheath area : we stayed two nights in a cabin in this nice village at the edge of the Blue Mountains NP. From here Govett's Leap, the spectaculair Grand Canyon Track, the Coachwood Glen Nature trail and the Rhododendron gardens were visited, as well as the green suburb which is the area surrounding the campsite.
- Katoomba : town south of Blackheath where we did some shopping in the centre and visited the citypark which is named the Gully.
- Wentworth Falls : small village surrounded by the Blue Mountain NP. We visited Lincoln's Rock, which has an very nice view over the entire area south of this village. Here we saw the Origma or Rock Warbler, a restricted range species.
- Springwood : village along the main road to Sydney. We did the beautiful birdwood gully trail, close to and partly in the Blue Mountains NP.
- Sydney : some places in this big capital of New South Wales were visited (5 M inhabitants). We camped in the southern suburb Miranda. Short visits were paid to the cables wake park near Penrith in the western part of town, to the Mirambeena park and to some pools in the coastal neighbourhood Greenhills Beach.
- Royal NP : big National Park south of Sydney. We visited the Hacking river, Watamolla and some sites along the road. Several short hikes were made along the coast and into the forest.
