Introduction

Visiting Ethiopia had long been a dream, and in the winter of 2014-2015 I finally managed to go. I actually meant to go the previous winter, so when we finally went I had been emailing with designated, recommended guide Merid Gabremichael for almost two years. This meant the tour was specifically targeting birds I wanted to see: besides all possible endemics, my targets included (African) Spotted Creeper and Abyssinian Catbird (new birdfamilies); Wattled & Black Crowned Crane; Arabian, Hartlaub's & Black-bellied Bustard (who doesn't love cranes and bustards?); Serval & Ethiopian Wolf; Abdim's Stork and Lesser Jacana (to complete birdfamilies); African bogey-bird White-headed Vulture, WP-bird Egyptian Nightjar and all-time favorites Scissor-tailed Kite and Spot-breasted Lapwing. This all worked out (more than) perfectly ...

While pre-trip-reading the Lonely Planet, I became aware of the possibility to swim with Whalesharks in neighbouring Djibouti, so a pre-trip was made by 3 of the Ethiopia crew (see separate tripreport: Djibouti Francolin, Arabian Golden & Somali Sparrow, Crab Plover).

Highlights

I rarely use the phrase 'too many to mention' but here it is really applicable! For me, they included Serval, Ethiopian Wolf & Big-headed Mole Rat, Scissor-tailed Kite, African Spotted Creeper; seeing all endemics, especially Spot-breasted Lapwing, Stresemann's Bushcrow, White-tailed Swallow, Brown-faced Go-away-bird, Sidamo Lark and Thick-billed Raven; Wattled Crane, Arabian & Hartlaub's Bustard, Lesser Jacana, 1,000's of murmuring Chestnut-bellied Sandgrouse and Northern Carmine Bee-eaters at Bilen Lodge, Eastern Plantain-eater, summer-plumaged Caspian Plover, (small) flocks of wintering Ortolan Bunting and Red-throated Pipit, 1,000's of waders, cranes and ducks at a number of Rift Valley Lakes, walking amidst Marabou Storks at Lake Awassa, the scenery at Debre Libanos, Sof Omar & Sanetti Plateau, the endemic race 'albofasciatus' of African Stonechat, Abyssinian Wheatear, a couple of Pallid Harriers almost daily, Giant Lobelias, 8 species of francolin, Egyptian Nightjar, Buff-bellied Warbler, Foxy & Tiny Cisticola (!), 4 subspecies of Northern White-rumped Babbler, Scaly Chatterer, Red-naped Bushshrike, Three-streaked Tchagra, White-crowned Starling, Black-cheeked Waxbill, the excellent scrub birding between Negele and Yabello, (the dragonflies) Dancing Jewel, Powder-faced Sprite & Common Riverjack (we stumbled upon three new dragonflies for Ethiopia and took the first photographs ever of another!) and of course Merid's breakfasts and meeting Lucy in Addis! Like I said, too many to mention!

Participants

Frank van Duivenvoorde, Vincent Hart, Remco Hofland (report), Wil van den Hoven, Guido Keijl, Wesley Overman (mammals), Chris Quispel, Wouter Teunissen, Roland van der Vliet and Casper Zuyderduyn from The Netherlands.

Trip totals

We recorded 542 species in Ethiopia, of which only 3 were heard-only (HO): Buff-crested Bustard, Common Quail and Freckled Nightjar. Three of us recorded an additional 40 species in Djibouti in the week prior to this trip (RH, WH, WO: see separate tripreport).

Of these 542 species, 37 can be considered country endemics (incl 'E(ssp)') and 7 North-East Africa endemics, 19 of which are either Vulnerable, Endangered or Critically endangered. To give an idea of personal scores, I myself recorded 531 of these 542 species (of which c 118 were lifers; I missed lifers Jameson's Firefinch (Melka Ghebdu), Orange-winged Pytilia (Sof Omar), Yellow-vented Eremomela (Wachile area) and Brown-rumped Bunting (Gibe Gorge)).

We also recorded 54 mammals (incl 1 HO), 13 reptiles, 2 amphibians, 33 dragonflies and of course saw plenty of (un)identified butterflies, plants and insects.

Birds not seen

As a team, we did not have any big dips as such, but as always missed out on some birds: most noticeably, Red-chested Swallow (that we all saw before, so we didn't spend more than 10 mins looking for it), Taita Fiscal (not taking sufficient time to check all fiscals in the south, not surprisingly given the number of exciting birds to look at!), (Smaller) Black-bellied Sunbird, Chestnut Sparrow, and African Crowned Eagle near its nest in Wondo Genet. Perhaps the only birds that we specifically searched for but missed, were Somali Courser (Liben Plains and Soda area, south of Yabello) and White-backed Duck (Lake Ziway and Lake Awassa).

We did not try for the most recent Ethiopian/N Kenyan (near-)endemic: Black-fronted Francolin, the (former) ssp atrifrons of Chestnut-naped Francolin Pternistis castaneicollis has been recently split, de facto becoming another target, which may be fitted in 'our' itinerary by allocating an extra day (or at least one morning).

Abyssinian Woodpecker was the endemic that gave us the runaround, but in the end we had great views of several on our last morning in Wondo Genet. Likewise, Abyssinian Waxbill was not overly cooperative, but Merid's vast knowledge of back-up sites paid off at Gibe Gorge.

Acknowledgements

First of all, thanks to my fellow travelers, Merid and the drivers for their excellent company. I thank Michel Veldt for recommending Merid as our guide; Sander Bot, Jacob Garvelink & Lieven DeTemmerman for their hints prior to the trip, and I also greatly appreciate the fact that KD Dijkstra produced such a nice Handbook for all Odonata (dragonflies & damselflies) of the region – one week before we left (and helped with identifying a few afterwards)!

Top-10 birds

Our joint-top-10 consists of

- | | |
|----------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1. Arabian Bustard | 6. Thick-billed Raven |
| 2. Scissor-tailed Kite | 7. Hartlaub's Bustard |
| 3. Wattled Crane | 8. African Spotted Creeper |
| 4. Prince Ruspoli's Turaco | 9. White-tailed Swallow |
| 5. Spot-breasted Lapwing | 10. Secretarybird |

No less than 36 species were mentioned as part of our personal top-10's, including unlikely ones such as (the cute) Tiny and Pectoral-patch Cisticola (due to its mousy habits)!

My personal top-10 was

- | | |
|---------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1 Scissor-tailed Kite | 6 Stresemann's Bushcrow |
| 2 African Spotted Creeper | 7 Egyptian Nightjar |
| 3 Spot-breasted Lapwing | 8 Arabian Bustard |
| 4 White-tailed Swallow | 9 Thick-billed Raven |
| 5 Red-naped Bushshrike | 10 Chestnut-bellied Sandgrouse* |

*Chestnut-bellied Sandgrouse may not have been a lifer, but the sight of 15,000 murmuring sandgrouse, at early morning Bilen Lodge, was one of my most memorable ones ever!

Top-5 mammals

1. Serval
2. Ethiopian Wolf
3. Yellow-winged Bat
4. Giant Mole Rat
5. Aardwolf

Guide: Merid Gabremichael (Birding Abyssinia)

I planned the entire tour through email with Merid Gabremichael from Birding Abyssinia, who also accompanied us throughout the trip. I can hardly describe what major part Merid played in the success of this trip. Through his years of experience, he knows exactly where to go and how long to stay and, besides his intimate knowledge of the sites described in his book (see Literature), he knows sev sites not mentioned in it, using them to complete our wanted-list (most noticeably, Juba Weaver and Wattled Crane). In the field, Merid showed great knowledge of sights and sounds of birds, and he duly showed us the birds we couldn't find ourselves.

Merid is fluent in English, and has a relaxed attitude towards birding that thoroughly suited ours. That said, he was very persistent when looking for a specific target, and this surely contributed to our long list. Merid's choice of hotels and restaurants was also excellent, and where needed or possible, we had elaborate breakfasts in the field, complete with table and chairs, omelets, porridge & sandwiches, coffee and tea, while birding.

The use of local guides at sev sites, including at Dinsho (Abyssinian Owl, African Wood Owl, Abyssinian Catbird, White-backed Black Tit), at the Sanetti Plateau in the Bale Mountains (Ethiopian Wolf den, looking for Wattled Cranes) and at Wondo Genet (Green Twinspot, Abyssinian Woodpecker, Scaly Francolin, nest of African Crowned Eagle, Scaly-throated and Green-backed Honeyguide) also greatly improved our chances of local species.

Merid guides some of the major tour companies (such as BirdQuest and Sunbird), which means his Novembers are solidly booked until 2018! Birding Abyssinia / Merid also employ other guides, as well as offering visiting birders the chance of touring the country with trusted drivers, who know the sites and what to look for, but are not birdguides as such.

Travel arrangements

All travel arrangements were made in advance by Merid Gabremichael of Birding Abyssinia. This meant a spacious bus (with careful, pleasant driver Tsiroy) for the leg Addis Abeba up to and including the Sanetti Plateau, Bale Mountains. Starting from Goba Jan 14th, our day trip to Sof Omar Cave, the bus was replaced by three sturdy 4WD Nissan Patrols, with equally experienced drivers; these we held on to until Jan 20th, when departing from Lake Awassa. That day, we again changed to a spacious bus, which dropped us in Addis in the early evening of Jan 23rd.

Literature

We took the following books:

Birds of the Horn of Africa: Ethiopia, Eritrea, Djibouti, Somaliland and Socotra, 2011, by Nigel Redman, John Fawnschawe and Terry Stevenson; simply indispensable;

Birds of Africa south of the Sahara, 2011, by Ian Sinclair and Peter Ryan;

Where to watch birds in Ethiopia, 2010, by Claire Spottiswoode, Merid Gabremichael and Julian Francis; maps, targetlist, great pictures and very informative;

The Kingdon field guide to African mammals, 1997, by Jonathan Kingdon;

* DIJKSTRA, K.-D. B. & CLAUSNITZER, V. 2014. The dragonflies and damselflies of Eastern Africa. Handbook for all Odonata from Sudan to Zimbabwe. Studies in Afrotropical Zoology, vol. 298. Tervuren: Royal Museum for Central Africa; full of good colour photographs and identification keys, simply indispensable for anyone interested in this group;

Lonely Planet guide to Djibouti, Ethiopia and Somaliland, June 2013 and furthermore a self-made PDF of possible mammals and their distribution prepared by Wesley Overman from maps of IUCN and plates of Handbook of the Mammals of the World and the Kingdon field guide to African mammals.

We also took the following tripreports to get an idea what to expect where:

Lieven DeTemmerman, Ethiopia 8 Oct to 2 Nov 2009, with site descriptions and containing some maps; and

Sander Bot, Ethiopia Jan 29 – Febr 21, 2011, very informative.

Merid took along

Amphibians and reptiles of Ethiopia and Eritrea, Aug 2010, by Malcolm Largen and Stephen Spawls;

Trees of Ethiopia, A Photographic Guide and Description, by Kebede Tadesse (in Amharic and English) and now he also owns the Handbook for all Odonata of East Africa by Dijkstra and Clausnitzer :-).

Money & cost

The international flight Amsterdam – Istanbul – Addis vice versa cost 7 of us c € 550 (Turkish Airlines, excellent B737's and ditto meals throughout). The 3 of us that flew Amsterdam – Istanbul – Djibouti City and Addis– Istanbul – Amsterdam paid c € 700 (plus € 150 for the Kenya Airways flight Djibouti City – Addis).

The tour with Birding Abyssinia cost c € 2.400 each (incl cost of money transfer) and for that we had a very successful 22-day trip during which we stayed at adequate to fine hotels (the best where possible), including the excellent Adot Tina Hotel in Addis on arrival and prior to departure, good food (with the notable, but unavoidable, exception being at the Goba Wabe Shebele Hotel), elaborate breakfasts (where possible in the field), all drinking water, a soft drink with every meal, fruit, good vehicles, excellent drivers, pick-up and drop-off at the airport and a great birding guide!

At the time of travel, 25 birr equalled € 1. For alcoholic drinks and expenditure of a personal nature (i.e. laundry), most of us took 4,000 birr from Addis Airport ATM, equalling c € 160. This was way more than we needed for 3 weeks, a beer on average costing between 17-22 birr (less than € 1).

Health & safety

We took daily Malarone (anti-malaria prophylaxis) throughout the trip. DTP and typhoid shots are recommended when traveling to Ethiopia; a yellow fever vaccination is a must. Few of us experienced mild intestinal problems (for a day at most) but it didn't interfere with birding.

To me it came as a surprise very few people smoke in Ethiopia (Merid and some of the drivers did, but cigarette breaks coincided with birding stops).

We felt completely safe everywhere and people were very friendly. In some areas taking photographs was not allowed (embassies in Addis, some bridges, incidentally people) but Merid would forewarn us where appropriate.

Food

In several tripreports I read about the lack of good food in Ethiopia, but we only had good to great food, the notable exceptions being the food served at the Ethio-German Hotel at Debre Libanos (our second meal there we ate at an excellent local restaurant) and that at the Wabe Shebele Hotel in Goba (where no other options are available unfortunately); as Merid put it: "choose the goulash". In the hotels and restaurants Merid carefully selected for us, we could usually choose between local food (such as agelgel, lamb tibes etc), spaghetti / pizza and other international fare (steak, fries, burgers, salads etc). Quite frequently we had dinner at local places where the food was just excellent.

Electricity

Throughout Ethiopia, the European pin is used, type C electrical plug. The system operates on 220 volts. In most hotel rooms, only one socket is found (unplug the tv), so taking a multiple socket might be in order when one has to charge multiple appliances (such as cell phone, camera battery, iPod, iPad etc).

Equipment

Our group of 10 took:

- birdsounds from xeno-canto, on our iPod and smartphones. Hardly used; where necessary (but fortunately very occasionally), Merid would play sound but we were usually able to find birds without the use of recordings;
- six telescopes (among which 3 Swarowskis);
- several multi sockets;
- two rechargeable walkie-talkies (Merid also brought two). Especially handy when the team split up over three cars; typically, on driving days, the cars would drive c 1 km apart; properly informing each other of good sightings through walkie-talkies proved however difficult sometimes, although nobody missed anything because of it.

Merid aided in bringing a green-light laserpointer, which we used mainly at Wondo Genet.

Finally, I took along 4 boxes of (typically Dutch) bitterkoekjes (made of apricot cores) to entice the team to look hard for my most-wanted (well, actually, to celebrate once we'd seen them). Fortunately, everybody loved them, even Merid & the drivers, so that might be why we saw (Djibouti Francolin in Djibouti) Spot-breasted Lapwing, Abyssinian Catbird and African Spotted Creeper....

Road conditions

During our trip (Jan 2015), some roads were unsurfaced:

- Debre Libanos – Debre Birhan;
- Ali Dege plains / Awash NP;
- Goba – Sof Omar Cave;
- Sanetti Plateau, Bale Mountains;
- the entire stretch between Goba – Negele – Soda;
- between Kulito and south of Butajira and some were under construction (meaning perhaps they're surfaced by the end of 2015):

- part of the stretch between Yabello and Awassa;
- part of the stretch between Wolliso – Addis Abeba.

Observation.org: the future of tripreports

Sharing one's observations directly from the field using Observation.org (formerly: Observado) becomes more and more commonplace, with birders now widely using smartphones and the improved cell phone coverage in remoter areas of the world.

In the field, WO, CZ, VH and WT recorded most birds and all mammals with accurate GPS locations by using an app (ObsMapp or iObs) on their smartphones. Whenever we had WiFi they would upload their sightings onto observation.org, a free, easy-to-use website that

- publishes all observations at once with accurate site, time and date details;
- has both standard fields (location, date & time, number of individuals, certainty of ID) and a field for extra info should one want to add;
- makes all locations easily available for others, using GoogleEarth maps;
- enables the observer to store photographs and/or sound recordings with one's sightings;
- generates the observer's (life, country, site, trip) lists and
- has the capability to generate multiple exports, such as by species, date, area etc.

I used WO, CZ, VH and WT's Observation.org data while writing this tripreport. In the near future, it might be possible to export (more or less) complete tripreports (or, while preparing, create one from multiple trips others made before) based solely on data logged in the field. The species lists would, in those exports, immediately be put in the right scientific order (with perhaps local subspecies based on location) and all details entered into the app on-site (or back home) would be mentioned. Such Observation-generated tripreports might even automatically add photographs, posted with the sighting, for example as a thumbnail next to the species.

A query on Observation allows one to see all* our data. Select our trip dates (2-25 Jan 2015) and the country (Ethiopia) to view all our Ethiopia records (including photographs). Alternatively, one could also approach just Wesley's, Casper's, Wouter's, Vincent's or my (limited) Ethiopia records by clicking 'This site', 'Users', the name and then 'Observations'. To view all Ethiopia data, click 'Geography' and 'Africa by country' and then 'Ethiopia' on the map displayed.

*except for data we put on 'Embargo'. This we did 3 times (mentioned in this report as 'undisclosed site'): the roost site of Egyptian Nightjars, a sensitive Juba Weaver site, and an important Wattled Crane wintering site.

VISITED SITES (in chronological order) & targets

Good site descriptions & maps are found in various sources, such as Where to watch birds in Ethiopia, by Claire Spottiswoode, Merid Gabremichael and Julian Francis; and in Sander Bot's and Lieven DeTemmerman's tripreports (see Literature).

Birds that we encountered frequently are usually not listed below: these include in all habitats Yellow-billed Kite, Hooded Vulture, Speckled Pigeon, Pied Crow, Greater Blue-eared Starling, Red-cheeked Cordon-bleu & Swainson's Sparrow; lowlands Red-eyed Dove, White-bellied Go-away-bird, Northern Carmine & Blue-breasted Bee-eater & Pied Wheatear; highlands White-collared Pigeon, Dusky Turtle Dove & Fan-tailed Raven.

Legend

Name of site (chapter in Where to watch birds in Ethiopia) [date(s) of our visit]

(<http://observation.org/gebiet/info/> = site map on Observation)

Endemics and Other targets are summed up in order of (relative) rarity (in my view).

Other birds and Dragonflies are treated in scientific order.

Wintering denotes probable wintering birds.

[Clapperton's Francolin] are possible ones we missed at mentioned site.

GPS is mentioned if site is not covered separately on Observation.org.

At sites where we spent limited time (usually on driving-days), an indication of time spent birding is given. Subspecific name of sighting is given when we identified it as such (and more than one subspecies occurs in Ethiopia).

Adot Tina Hotel (Addis) Abeba (1) [2-3 Jan 2015, 2 hrs] GPS 8.991, 38.767

Endemics: Black-winged Lovebird, Ethiopian Cisticola, Brown-rumped Seedeater, White-collared Pigeon

Other birds: Dusky Turtle-Dove, Mountain Thrush, Common Bulbul, African Dusky Flycatcher, Abyssinian White-eye, Tacazze Sunbird, Greater Blue-eared Starling, Baglafaecht Weaver (baglafaecht), Swainson's Sparrow, Streaky Seedeater

Highlands between Addis and Debre Libanos (Sululta Plains, 8) [3 Jan 2015, 2 hrs]

Amphibians

14. small brown frog Ptychadena sp: 5 Sof Omar (WT)
15. African Common Toad Amietophrynus regularis: 1 Melka Ghebdu (WO, WT)

Recorded dragonflies (Odonata) (identified by KD B Dijkstra, RH, CZ)

Scientific order, English & scientific names and status after DIJKSTRA, K.-D. B. & CLAUSNITZER, V. 2014. The dragonflies and damselflies of Eastern Africa. Handbook for all Odonata from Sudan to Zimbabwe. Studies in Afrotropical Zoology, vol. 298. Tervuren: Royal Museum for Central Africa.

(Alternate names) are used by Observation. (RH, CZ) are initials of those who photographed it. Photographs of all Odonata are published on Observation. Three-striped Skimmer = significant record.

1. Dancing Jewel Platycypha caligata: Sof Omar, Hareenna Forest (RH, WO, CZ)
2. Common Riverjack Mesocnemis singularis: 1m Gibe Gorge, along the river west of the bridge (RH, WO, CZ). The first for Ethiopia with site details. M. singularis is most likely a species complex, so which species is actually found here will require future research.
3. Highland Wisp Agriocnemis inversa: Lake Awassa (CZ)
4. Common Citril (Common Orange) Ceriagrion glabrum: sev United Africa Hotel (Lake Awassa)
5. Marsh Bluetail Ischnura senegalensis: Lake Beseka, Bilen Lodge, Lake Awassa (RH, WO, CZ)
6. Powder-faced (Kersten's) Sprite Pseudagrion kersteni: 2m Hareenna Forest (RH, CZ)
7. Upland (Powder) Sprite Pseudagrion spernatum: 1f Melka Ghebdu (WO, 1m Hareenna (RH)
8. Swarthy Sprite Pseudagrion hamoni: 1m Gibe Gorge, along the river W of the bridge (WO)
9. Masai Sprite Pseudagrion massaicum: sev Lake Awassa (RH, CZ)
10. Cherry-eye Sprite Pseudagrion sublactum: Melka Ghebdu (WO), Sof Omar (CZ)
11. Blue-tailed (Nubian) Sprite Pseudagrion nubicum: 1m Lake Awassa (probably, though it could be Wing-tailed (Senegal) Sprite P. torridum)(RH)
12. Common Tigertail Ictinogomphus ferox: 1m Lake Beseka (CZ)
13. Corkscrew Hooktail Paragomphus elpidius: 1 Gibe Gorge (WO). First record for Ethiopia!
14. Darting Cruiser Phyllomacromia picta: 1m Sof Omar (WO, CZ)
15. Northern Banded Groundling Brachythemis impartita: sev Lake Beseka (RH, WO)
16. Red Groundling Brachythemis lacustris: 1f Sof Omar (CZ)
17. Southern Banded Groundling Brachythemis leucosticta: common Lake Awassa (RH, CZ)
Identification of both Banded Groundlings is in sync with the findings of the 2009 article "Kindred spirits: 'Brachythemis leucosticta', Africa's most familiar dragonfly, consists of two species" by Klaas-Douwe B. Dijkstra & Nataly Matushkina (freely available on the internet) in which a 'negligible' sample 'proved' that "B. impartita was found at Lake Beseka and B. leucosticta at Lake Awassa".
18. Broad Scarlet Crocothemis erythraea: sev Bilen Lodge (CZ), Sof Omar (RH, WO, CZ)
19. Banded (Tough) Skimmer Orthetrum brachiale: sev probables Wondo Genet (RH)
20. Three-striped Skimmer Orthetrum brevistylum: 1f Jemma Valley (WO). First photographs ever of a live individual of this Sahel specialist! Formerly known as O. kollmannspergeri.
21. Epaulet Skimmer Orthetrum chrysostigma: Jemma Valley, Sof Omar, Gibe Gorge (all WO)
22. Julia(s) Skimmer Orthetrum julia: c 7 Jemma Valley, 3m Hareenna Forest (RH, GK, CZ)
23. Ethiopian Skimmer Orthetrum kristenseni E: 1f Dinsho (Bale Mountains) (CZ)
24. Highland (Machado's) Skimmer Orthetrum machadoi: 1 young male Bilen Lodge (CZ); 1m caught in restaurant of Negash Lodge (Wolliso): photographed and released (RH, CZ)
25. Long Skimmer Orthetrum trinacria: Lake Beseka (WO)
26. Deceptive Widow Palpopleura deceptor: 1m Sof Omar (CZ)
27. Lucia Widow Palpopleura lucia: 1f Gibe Gorge (RH, GK)
28. Halfshade (Monkshood) Dropwing Trithemis aconita: 1f Sof Omar (RH)
29. Violet Dropwing Trithemis annulata: Lake Beseka, Bilen Lodge, Gibe Gorge (RH, WO, CZ)
30. Stonewash Dropwing Trithemis dejouxi: 1m Jemma Valley (WO)
31. Navy Dropwing Trithemis furva: Jemma Valley (WO), Sof Omar (WO, CZ)
32. Orange-winged Dropwing Trithemis kirbyi: 1m Jemma Valley (WO), 2m Sof Omar (RH, WO), Negele area (RH)
33. Southern Riverking (Fuelleborn's Bottle-tail) Zygonoides fueelleborni: 1m at undisclosed Juba Weaver site, Negele area (RH, CZ). First record of any of this genus in Ethiopia!

Recorded butterflies (Lepidoptera)

According to Wikipedia, 376 species of butterfly have been recorded in Ethiopia. Photographs of all our Lepidoptera are published on Observation.org.

1. Mocker Swallowtail Papilio dardanus: sev Wondo Genet (RH, GK, CZ)
2. Papilio microps NEAE: 1m found dead, Wondo Genet
3. African Migrant Catopsilia florella: sev Sof Omar (CZ)
4. African Clouded Yellow Colias electo: 1 probable male btw Debre Libanos & Debre Birhan (RH), 1m garden of Wabe Shebele Hotel, Goba (WT, CZ)

5. Crimson Tip Colotis danae: 1m Yabello (GK)
6. Eastern Dotted Border Mylothris agathina: 1m garden of Wabe Shebele Hotel, Goba (WT)
7. Pioneer White Belenois aurota: 350+ Sof Omar (RH, CZ)
8. Coffee Playboy Deudorix lorisona: Gibe Gorge (CZ)
9. Anthene sp: sev
10. Small Copper Lycaena phlaeas pseudophlaeas: 1m Debre Birhan (WT)
11. Mediterranean Pierrot Tarucus rosacea: 1 Melka Ghebdu (WO)
12. African Monarch Danaus chrysippus: Sof Omar (WT, CZ)
13. Bush Brown Bicyclus sp: 1 (CZ)
14. Painted Lady Vanessa cardui: sev Debre Libanos, 10+ Bale Mountains
15. Abyssinian Admiral Vanessa a. abyssinica: 1 garden of Wabe Shebele Hotel, Goba (WT, CZ)
16. Dark Blue Pansy Junonia oenone: 1 Sof Omar (RH, WT)
17. Soldier Commadore Junonia terea: Wondo Genet (CZ)
